SOUTH DAKOTA.

DEADWOOD, S. D. Oct. 2—There will be move in mica shipments again this month when F t. Graydon, manager of the Chleago Mica Company, returns from the East. He will put in several new steam holsts for his different companies and extensive mining will be carried on. A hundred or more new mica prospects have recently been opened up, from which mica can be shipped almost from the surface down. Since the first shipment six months ago, there has been an increased demand for Black Hills mica on account of its freedom from iron and other materials that would be a detriment in electrical uses. The Homestake Mining Company of Lead has ordered twenty addition al stamps for the Calcalonia mill at Terraville and will have it ready for ore in thirty days. Nearly one hundred men have been set to work on an extension of the Black Hills and Fort Pierre Railroad hown to the mill. The machinery for the new

RICH GOLD ORE SHOOT:

STRIKE IN A MONTANA MINE RUNS OVER $30,000 A TON.

Richest Find in the State in Many Years—Made in the Fast Pacific, which Has Already Produced $1,500,000 Developments in the Copper Region—Mica in the Elack Hills.

Helena, Mon. Oct. 1—The richest gold strike made in Montana for many years is recorted at the East Pacific, twelve miles from Hielena, and owned by R. A. Rell of this city. The ore is so rich that miners are searched upon leaving the mine, and the property is guarded by armed men to prevent theft. The present strike runs from $30,000 to $40,000 gold a ton. The discovery was made in drifting No. 4 tunnel, which is now over 2,000 feet under ground and at a depth of about 900 feet, showing that it increases in value with the sinking. Pieces of ore are exhibited by Mr. Bell that are at least one-half solid gold. The East Pacific has already produced upward of $1,500,000 in gold, and this new strike will undoubtedly add enormously to the production of the mine.

The ore shoot in this mine is one of the longest in the Western country, the pay shoot disclosed in No. 4 tunnel being over 2,800 feet in length. The vein is not a wide one, but its remarkable persistency and the extreme length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the length of the pay shoot make it one of the len as well as the $30,000 product of the cyanide plants that passed through the gold sampling rooms of the American Smelting and Refining Company. This does not include the ores that were forwarded by the individual ore buyers, nor the copper, gold and silver bullion, consisting of $81,000 pounds, that was forwarded to Eastern refineries by the Highland Boy. These might add $200,000 to the total.

The report of the Horn Silver Mining Company for the past year shows that 150,000 tons of crude ore and concentrates have been marketed, with a value of $600,000. The company will close its anniversary with over $200,000 in the treasury. The profitable handling of the zinc ores is to be made the feature of next year's campaign at the mine.

"The objects of capital in this country are misunderstood by the people. A man of wealth is hated and cut off from all personal and direct association with our national political life, and debarred from our highest offices. C. P. He had his struggles between the lower and higher nature, his days of victory and defeat but his life has a lesson for us all to strike is settled.

Transport Fire-Pier Not All Wrecked.

The fire on the uptown pier of the Atlantic Transport Line, at the foot of Clarkson street, which started soon after 11 o'clock on Saturday night, was not entirely extinguished until after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. It did not do as much damage as was at first supposed. About one-third of the roof of the pier, which was sup-ported by iron girders, was burned, but the flooring and piles of the pier were only slightly

He will sail from San Francisco on Feb. 19 and after visiting Japan will go to corea for three weeks and from there to China, where he will spend three months in the interior, afterward going to the Philippines for a month, then to Siam, where a tour on elephants will be raide to the Laos country in the north. After going to India the journey will be continued across the Red Sea to Syria and finally to Europe. It is expected that the trip will take fourteen months. Dr. Brown will be accompanied by Mrs Brown and practically all the foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church will be visited.

financially, and for this happy state of affairs due credit is given the mines.

On the west coast of Vancouver Island a great deal of attention is being given to iron and copper mines. A New Tork syndicate has taken hold of the Monitor group and developed it to a point of production, making necessary the construction of wharves and other conveniences for the shipment of ore. They have a large body of high grade copper gold ore that will command ready sale at the Puget Sound smelters.

The iron mines in the same district are now under development, over $100.000 having been set aside by Pennsylvania capitalists for this purpose. The ore is nearly all within the Bessemer limit, and the mines are from a quarter to two miles from tidewater, making transportation very cheap.

There seems to be no destitution among miners here. Business goes on as before and there has been no decrease of patronage at the stores, but there is great scarcity of coal and the bituminous product is now being used on some of the locomotives of the Lackawanna Raiiroad. President Mitchell of the mine workers' union returned here from Shenandoah this morning, where he had been yes erday attending the big parade and meeting of the striking miners. He declined to discuss the chances for an early settlement of the strike or when the convention he referred to as being imminent in his Shenandoah speech would be called. There was a meeting of the Executive Board at the strikers' headquarters here this afternoon, where the question of calling the convention was discussed. At its close, however, it was said that no conclusion had been arrived at. It is certain, however, that it will be called in a day or two and probably to be held in Scranton. What Mitchell will be able to offer the miners as a basis upon which to arrive at a settlement is doubtful. It is not at all likely that the big companies will offer any better terms, in fact it is believed that they could not do so without stuitifying themselves. Much less can the individual operators hold out any better inducements. The operators here say that Mitchell had better accept the offers made quickly, as he cannot hold his men together much longer. stores, but there is great scarcity of coal and

ALMOST CUT OFF ON BURNING PIER. Firemen's Narrow Escape at the Atlantic

Companies 24 and 2 of the Fire Patrol had a narrow escape while fighting the fire in the early evening. While they were working near the river end of the pier Chief Croker discovered that the fire had spread so as nearly to cut them off.

"Boys, make for the street, quick!" the Chief shouted to them.

The fremen hurried to obey the order. Some

"Boys, make for the street, quick!" the Chief shouted to them.

The firemen hurried to obey the order. Some of them jumped on the hose wagon of Engine Company 24 and were driven to safety through a shower of falling embers. The others ran through it. They went none too soon as a part of the root fell in just as they reached the street. About fifty sections of hose were left behind and burned.

Supt. Watson of the pier said yesterday that the burned section of the pier would be rebuilt at once. The loss would not exceed $100,000, and was covered by insurance. The principal freight destroyed was 2,000 cases of canned pineapplies.

They expected to have the funeral from the church in Madison avenue, where Holland's family had been attendants. When they had completed their arrangements they were told by the Rev. Dr. Sabine that he would not conduct funeral services over the body of the actor. Then he said: "There is a little church around the corner that you might go to."

The little church around the corner was Dr. Houghton's church, and he willingly conducted the services at Holland's funeral. DUCEY ASSAILS THE RICH. and He Closed His Sermon at St. Leo's Yesterday With an Appeal for Money.

Father Ducey preached in St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church yesterday morning on "The Man with the Pick and the Man with the Millions." The sermon was the first of a course which he purposes delivering during the month on the general subject of "The Obligations of the State and Religion to Labor," the theme having been suggested by the priest's recent having been suggested by the priest's recent visit to the strike region in Pennsylvania. The sermon was a comparison between the social conditions of labor and capital. The priest found little but misery in the condition of the one and little but debauchery in the condition of the other. He suggested no remedy for either. Here are some passages from the sermon:
"While the slaves of the kings of these cos

ermon:

"While the slaves of the kings of these coal roads and mines are working their lives out down in the pits, the kings are living in Oriental luxury. Ten thousand dollars for a dog, $50,000 for a horse, and I have heard it stated that as much as 100,000 has been paid for a horse. The houses where these men find homes for their legitimate wives and children are like the palaces of Mohammedan paganism.

"And yet the man with the pick, working ten hours a day, can provide hardly the necessities of bare existence for himself and his family. He goes down into the mine, and as he goes the light of the lamp on his forehead is a mockery of the sunlight God intended him to cripoy. In the hovels in which the coal barons compel him to live he rears, if he dares, a family of little ones, doomed from their birth to a lifetime of misery. But many of these men hesitate to take upon themselves the responsibilities and duties God intended them to fulfil. One says to himself: I cannot love, I cannot marry. I can hardly provide for myself. Such luxuries are only for the rich, my masters. In the name of God, these things should not be."

At the close of the sermon Father Ducey told the congregation that the Church needed money and that those who attended it were relied upon to provide it "You come here to worship, you want the house of God beautiful, you want His altar decorated, you want for it. You wear out the cushions, you rub the varnish off the backs of the seats, and all this ngust be renewed. It takes money. Now give liberally."
